Coming Home

We are pleased to announce to our readers the good news of the return to this community of the popular Bohemian violinist and instructor, Prof. Josef Halamicek, and his wife. During the summer months, Mr. Halamicek has been assisting his son, Camille, in his music studio at Hampton, Iowa, but the climate does not agree with Mrs. Halamicek so they will return here, early in October, where both enjoy conditions, climate and friends.

On his arrival here, Prof. Halamicek will re-open his music studio in the B. O. Curry block teaching violin and theory of music. Prof. Jan Kalas will instruct in cello, vocal, harmony and composition and Miss Kalas will continue with her piano class.

The return of Mr. Halamicek will re-establish our excellent instrumental trio of which Campbell music lovers are so justly proud. Their talent has been so much in demand about the county and state that they have done much concert work. These musicians furnish a class of music unexcelled and rarely equalled in many of the large cities.

Welcome home, friends, the community glad hand is extended to you.

OUCH!

The Associated Raisin Growers of California have recently named their price for the 1919 pack. The cost to jobbers for 16 oz. packages of seeded raisins is to be 15c, and the same size in seedless is fixed at 15½c. Add the jobber's legitimate margin of 10 per cent., plus freight, and this will make the cost to the retailer something near 20c. Thus the consumer will probably pay for 16 oz. package raisins this fall and winter 25c.

Now it is all right for dried prunes, which Santa Clara County people produce but do eat, to be high but the same condition of costliness applied to raisins, which we don't produce but do eat, is vastly painful. Therefore it is in order to cry, "Ouch!"

This latest jab from "H. C. L." might serve as a suggestion that a good thing to do with the money that has been flowing so freely of late in our home town, account of high wages and high sales, would be to save it. This money may be needed, later. Unlike its brother, the honey maker, the H. C. L. bee dieth not, but ever reneweth its youth and produceth a new stinger.

Though we tremble to suggest the thought—the purpose of saving is well served by trading, as far as possible, at home. Cultivate this habit, not as a salutary virtue to be especially rewarded in the hereafter, but as an eminently practical thing—right now. The local salesman is a clumsy fellow with few wiles. His chief thought is to get through with one customer to serve the next. He'll not tempt you to extravagance. Grant that his prices are high, he will only use his excess profits to increase his stock and otherwise improve his service, and perhaps put a bright new coat of paint on the front of his store. Thus will your heart swell with pride in your home town!

Raymond Thomas was the unfortunate in the auto smash at Arden corner, Johnson and Campbell avenue, Monday evening. In trying to avoid a collision with a motorcycle Miss Thomas struck a walnut tree with such force that her brother was hurled thru the windshield to a soft spot on the H. W. Higbie lawn. His ear was so badly cut that Dr. Merrill needed to put in several stitches. There were several minor cuts about the face. The auto was somewhat damaged but able to limp into the Preston garage.

WESTERNERS IN THE UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS

The first authentic historical record of the Marines was written in the year of 1740, older than that of soldiers or sailors. The Marine uniform at first consisted of camel coat, brown linen waistcoat and canvas trousers. From time to time changes were made in uniform until finally we have the superb Blues, a most perfect uniform that no other military organization can boast of. The Marines are always the first on the scene where there is a disturbance of the public peace. A Marine can be distinguished from all other service men by the Marine Corps emblem: a Globe, representing the wide world, an Anchor, meaning safety, and an Eagle, which symbolizes the true American spirit, it further means that wherever that emblem appears, it carries with it broad-mindedness, security and freedom. In regards to soldiering, it detones the service on land, sea and in the air.

Kipling said: "There isn't a job on top of the earth the beggar don't know or do." At sea, the Marines are doing guard duty and form a backbone of the landing parties, sent from ship to fight on land.

Training recruits at Mare Island, California, and Parris Island, S. C., (the main Western and Eastern Recruiting Training Camps for the U. S. Marines), is the most thorough and varied training of any military organization in existence. The Marine Corps is the smallest military organization that Uncle Sam has, but it is composed of a select, the best body of men that this great free nation can produce.

During war, the training camp for the Western men was a scene of great activity. Thousands of husky Westerners were put through a thorough training of modern warfare and they proved it "Over there." Judging by what the men trained in the Eastern camps say about their training there, it appears that a greater feeling of democracy exists between the privates and non-commissioned officers and that the training is more thorough in the Western training camp. This way a close feeling of fellowship is shown and at the same time the discipline for which the Marine Corps is noted, is upheld and respected. The Westerner, sturdy and strong in civil life, is turned out for duty capable of "getting" the other fellow, while skillfully trained in protecting himself in combat. In fact, when a man completes his "course" in the Recruit Training Camp at Mare Island, he is turned over for duty, knowing that he will serve with an organization that is famous the world over as composed of "rip-roarin'" fighters, who never say "die," and who are always "first to appear on the scene of trouble."

NEGROES WANT NO COLOR LINE IN PEACE TREATY

Senate Told that Trouble Looms Unless Conditions Improve

Washington. — Asking for an amendment to the peace treaty so as to provide for racial equality, a delegation of negroes, speaking for the National Equal Rights League, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that serious trouble might be expected unless better treatment were accorded negroes in the United States.

"The black man has given notice," said A. Whaley, a New York negro, "that what he has suffered in the past will not be endured in the future. He means business now. There can be no compromise."

William Monroe Trotter of Boston, secretary of the league, voicing a similar opinion, said the "oppression" of the negro in America is reaching a point where no one could be sure "that our land will be a land of peace."

Neither witness was questioned as to what he had in mind by these declarations. Only five of the seventeen committee members, all of them Republicans, attended the meeting.

An amendment to give the United States a mandatory over the Kamerun, a German colony in Africa, was requested by Joseph T. Thomas, a negro, of Cleveland, Ohio, representing the National Race Congress. American negroes, he said, could be recruited to police the territory under white officers.

Woodland. — A Rambouillet ram, owned by Bullard Brothers of Woodland, sold for $1450 at the national auction in Salt Lake City, according to word received here.

Santa Rosa. — Armistice Day, November 11, has been designated as official home-coming welcome day for the soldiers and sailors of Santa Rosa. A tentative program has been submitted and the program committee is now at work perfecting arrangements for carrying it out.

Marysville. — Rice growers have been advised to save their rice straw, which was formerly burned, as it is said that the straw can be used in the manufacture of insulation.

GEN. PERSHING SAILS FOR U.S. ON LEVIATHAN

A. E. F. Commander and Marshal Foch Exchange Addresses of Farewell

Brest. — General John J. Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary forces, sailed from here September 1, on the transport Leviathan for the United States. The steamer left port at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Marshal Foch came aboard the transport shortly before she sailed and made a feeling address to the departing American commander.

"In leaving France," said the Marshal, "you leave your dead in our hands. On our soil we will care for them religiously and zealously, as bearing witness of the powerful aid you brought us. These dead will bring from America many thoughts of remembrance and pious visits, and will bind still more strongly our already close union."

"Recalling with emotion the hours we have lived together—some of them full of anguish, some glorious—I am struck hard in the heart in passing with you the last moments of your stay among us. On your arrival you said: 'Lafayette! We are here!' Allow a French soldier of today to return thanks to you, and in a few words recall the work you have done for the rights and liberty of the world."

Marshal Foch then reviewed the American effort and continued:

"This army, raised in all haste with still only elementary instruction, recently organized and commanded by young officers without military tradition, passed rapidly into your hands. You have shown yourself to be in the largest sense an organizer, soldier, chief and great servant of your country, crowning the generous efforts and noble spirit of America with victory by your armies."

"If," concluded the Marshal, "the clouds of war should gather again in the future, would not these dead rise from their tombs and make their voices heard once more by a world which already knows that the same cause, the cause of liberty, has united us since the time of Washington and Lafayette?"

General Pershing replied by bidding farewell to France in the person of the Marshal, "to her gallant poilus, to her patriotic men and to her noble women. You have done me the signal honor," he said, "of paying me a final visit. It is fitting that you should be the last to whom I say farewell, because of our intimate service together in the days of anxiety and victory."

"The American Army, in fulfillment of the will of the people, came to France because we stood for the same principles of right and because the common ideals of the two countries called for mutual action upon this foundation. Close comradeship and cooperation rapidly molded our fresh and aggressive young manhood into an army which, under you as the allied leader, was to turn the tide of war."

"To have fought beside the glorious army of France and been of your people during more than two years has given our relations an affectionate touch and makes our parting one of sadness. But in these deep sentiments there is an abiding confidence between our peoples which insures to the world our constant friendship and our common purpose in behalf of humanity."

"In leaving with France our dead, we are consoled to feel that their graves will be tenderly cared for and become a sacred shrine that will still more firmly bind us together."

Then the General and Marshal Foch walked arm in arm to the gangplank, exchanging final salutes as the Marshal stepped ashore.

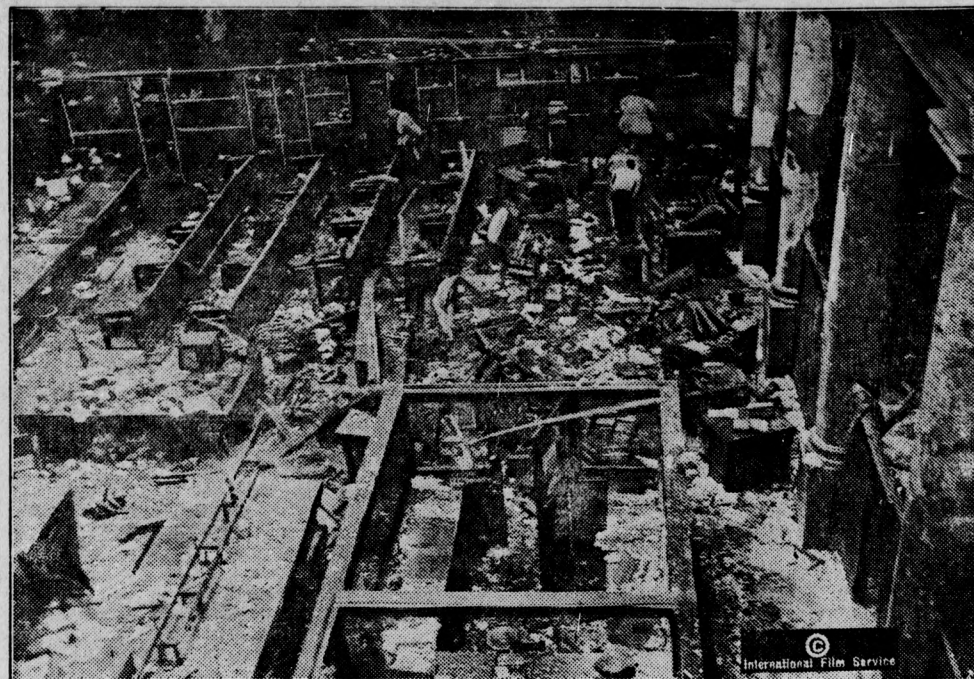

Paris. — General Pershing, at a meeting with representatives of the French press Saturday morning, August 30, bade farewell to the journalists. The American commander in chief made this statement:

"More than two years ago I arrived in Paris with a small group of officers and men as the advance guard of our army. Since that day a vast host of Americans have come to France, lived among her people and returned to their homes."

"If it is possible for different nations to understand each other, then we feel that we carry back with us an appreciation of France and its people, its art and its culture. Our soldiers found their relaxation in Paris, along the rivers of the Pyrenees and in the mountains. They have shared with the wonderful peasantry of France their joys and sorrows; they have fought, suffered and died beside the poilus and rejoiced with them in the final victory. Such a mingling of peoples in a common cause is unprecedented in the history of the world. In taking our departure we have one regret—that the people who have formerly known us only as guests and visitors are without knowledge of the home life of the Americans."

"None of us will ever forget that period of the war when the American forces were assembled and trained for battle under the protection of the armies of France and England, holding the enemy at bay. Nor will we ever forget that moment of the struggle when we found our opportunity to join with the world

JOHN DAGGETT, ONCE CHIEF OF S. F. MINT, DIES

Widely Known Mine Operator Came to State in 1853 from New York

San Francisco. — John Daggett, former superintendent of the San Francisco Mint, and Lieutenant-Governor of California in 1892, died Saturday night, August 30, at Black Bear, Siskiyou county.

Daggett, who came to California from New York in 1852, was among the well known early Californians. He engaged in mining in Nevada in 1852 and early in 1853 came to California and entered State politics, where he played a leading part until his retirement from the superintendency of the San Francisco Mint, in 1897.

Daggett was nominated for Lieutenant-Governor at the Democratic convention held in San Jose June 23, 1892. General George Stoneman was nominated for Governor on the same ticket. Stoneman and Daggett swept the State, defeating Morris M. Estee and Alvah Conklin, the Republican nominees, by 18,000 votes.

Daggett, during his term of office as Lieutenant-Governor, became conspicuous because of his opposition to the Barr bill, a legislative measure put forward by the People's party to place restrictions on the then growing power of the railroads.

The bill passed the Assembly, but on several occasions, when under consideration by the Senate, received a tie vote. Daggett casting his vote against the bill and defeating the measure.

Daggett was appointed superintendent of the San Francisco Mint by President Grover Cleveland in 1893. His appointment was said to be the first time a large producer of the raw metal became a manufacturer of the finished product in the shape of coin.

He was a member of the old San Francisco Stock and Exchange Board in 1895, during the presidency of George I. Ives. After his retirement from the Mint, Daggett returned to his mine at Black Bear, Siskiyou county. He led a secluded life up to his death, devoting himself entirely to directing the work on his mine. He is survived by a son, Benjamin Daggett, and a daughter, Margaret Daggett, both of whom resided with him at Black Bear. Miss Daggett is a member of the forestry service of Northern California.

Santa Rosa. — H. A. Lundstrom has commenced an action in the Superior Court for $340 against J. F. Miller, in which the defendant is charged with reckless driving. The suit is the outgrowth of a collision between the automobiles of the two men on the Healdsburg road.

Petaluma. — The Rev. Frederick Schlunkman, who was for six years pastor of the Grace Evangelical church here, but who has of late been pastor of a church in St. Louis, with Mrs. Schlunkman and family is soon to return to California. It is expected he will secure a church in this state.

Colusa. — A mild mannered motorist offered Miss Rosa Berchiser a ride, she says, but when she got in the car his manners became offensive and she was forced to fight to repulse his advances. He abandoned her on the road and she complained to the sheriff here.

In the second battle of the Marne. "All this is now past, but it is upon the past that the foundation of our future relations must rest. In saying good-bye to France, which we have come to love so well, I feel assured that as time goes on we shall regard those days of comradeship and struggle more and more as an everlasting bond between our peoples."

FLYER FALLS INTO BAY AS FLEET ENTERS

Civilian Aviator Goes Into Nose Spin and Drops; Rescued Unhurt

San Francisco. — Going into a nose spin, the aeroplane of A. J. Barnelli, a civilian flyer, dived into the bay not more than half a mile ahead of the New Mexico Monday morning, September 1st, just as the flagship was rounding through the Golden Gate. The machine was wrecked and the driver was held under the water for a few seconds until he disengaged himself and came to the surface.

Instantly the wrecked aeroplane was surrounded by various small craft intent upon rescue.

Barnelli waved to a passing seaplane that had landed on the surface near him, indicating that he was out of danger. No one was in the machine with him.

Barnelli flew from Redwood City yesterday morning, intending to help swell the air welcome to the fleet. As Admiral Rodman's flagship started through the Golden Gate the flyer followed three fast seaplanes that were rushing seaward to give greeting. The air squadron passed around the flagship and started up the bay again. Off the Marina Barnelli circled about to return to the fleet. As he turned, not over 200 feet above the water, the plane took a sudden downward dip. Barnelli was seen to make a frantic effort to right the machine, but it plunged nose foremost into the water.

$400,000,000 PROPERTY IS SOLD TO FRANCE

All War Material Except That Returned or in Use is Transferred

Washington. — Sale to France for $400,000,000 of all A. E. F. property in that country, except that withheld for return to the United States and for the use of troops remaining, is provided for in a contract signed with the French Government, the War Department has been advised by its special liquidation commission. Payment will be made in ten-year gold bonds, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent from August 1, 1919.

The bonds are to be redeemed in gold at Washington on a dollar basis, or, at the election of the United States, in francs. The contract covers all "fixed installations," such as docks, wharves, railroads, storage warehouses, barracks and refrigeration plants, as well as surplus clothing, subsistence stores, motor equipment and munitions.

The original cost of the property involved was estimated by the commission at more than $1,000,000,000 and its present value was placed at $749,000,000. A deduction of 25 per cent was made to cover the cost of merchandising it, reducing the value to $562,000,000, but the French Government refused to pay more than $400,000,000. It would require the labor of 40,000 men for six to eight months to salvage the property, the report said.

Modesto. — Modesto's city schools opened here with every indication of a 15 per cent increase in attendance. The high school roll shows 600 students this term against 535 last year. Two kindergartens were established with 100 pupils. The schools are overtaxed and the 10-hour school day has been adopted by the board, until the additions planned shall have been built to five of the present schools.

PACIFIC FLEET NOW IN SAN FRANCISCO BAY

Surrounding Hills Covered with People as Armada Enters Golden Gate

San Francisco. — Through the reaching arms of the Golden Gate, into their haven of San Francisco bay, September 1, filed a stately armada of fifty-two ships—a gun-bristling steel bulwark aggregating 300,000 tons—manned by 15,000 of the finest officers and men that ever trod quarter-deck and bridge.

Never more need the coast gaze with anxious eyes toward the Pacific horizon with these formidable protectors at our gates.

And on these ships we have Admiral Hugh Rodman's officers and men—Admiral Sir David Beatty's "Comrades of the Mist," many of whom have felt the sting of the raw North sea when the famous Sixth Battle Squadron, under Rodman, operated with the British grand fleet; men who stood watch and watch in the squared areas, where lurked the sinister menace of hidden mine; men who helped cleanse the sea of German mine, and men who helped take the army over and bring it home.

With true naval precision and punctuality Admiral Rodman made the rendezvous off Bolinas Sunday night. Blinker and searchlight flashed signals down the line from the Commander-in-Chief and in a few minutes the ships were at anchor in ten fathoms of water, the big ships with forty-five fathoms of chain on deck.

To the northward the destroyer force described an arc, their myriad lights appearing like the fringe of a city by night. Within the destroyer curve lay the capital ships, just inside the lightship and fronting the Golden Gate, through which the great revolving eye of the Alcatraz light flared clearly.

As thousands gazed upon the twinkling lights of the armada from the beach, thousands, too, aboard ship, looked toward the aureola above San Francisco, impatient for the morning entry. Bonita and Mile Rock lights gleamed brightly, making excellent anchorage bearings.

Soon after chains were secured all hands, with exception of the watch, turned in to rest for the big day.

After a night under the stars the morning broke gray with a light haze obscuring the southern headlands.

And at 10:20 o'clock came the signal of execution—the flags, shot down, blocked to the yard arms, shot down.

A second later the New Mexico's engines were turning over, and with right rudder she laid the course for the North Channel. Quickly the other ships of the line fell into position at intervals of 500 yards. Following the flagship were the Mississippi and Idaho, the latter dropping and taking position astern the battle divisions.

Flying the two-starred red flag of Rear-Admiral R. E. Coontz, the Wyoming swung into position, followed by the other super-dreadnaughts, the Arkansas, Texas and New York. Came then the pre-dreadnaught Vermont, flying the three-starred blue flag of Vice-Admiral C. S. Williams, and leading the pre-dreadnaught Nebraska and the armored cruiser North Carolina. In command of Rear-Admiral W. R. Shoemaker, brought up battle division two, composed of the pre-dreadnaught Georgia and the armored cruiser Seattle.

Astern came the destroyer force, composed of thirty sleek greyhounds, sired by the scout cruiser Birmingham flying the flag of Rear-Admiral A. H. Wiley.

Completing this ten-mile pageant of fighting ships was the "train" composed of the auxiliaries Vestal, Glacier, Celtic, Orion, Jason, Cuy-

Cotati. — Following the announcement that Guardian Lawrence A. Presley had secured a tenant for the lands of Mrs. Eliza Cook here, Frank A. Meyer has come forward with M. McGaughey, who agreed to take the property for $2000 a year, a figure in excess of that obtainable by Presley. On this showing Judge Seawell has confirmed the lease.

Modesto. — The board of supervisors have raised the pay of its cooks at the county hospital to $200 a month. This is the highest monthly stipend that has ever been paid for this work in Stanislaus county, if not in the valley.

Fresno. — Harry M. Denison has entered upon his new appointment as fiscal agent for the County Board of Supervisors. He had been assistant purchasing agent. He will install a uniform double-entry system of bookkeeping in the county. Mrs. Kaster will be an assistant to him.

Oroville. — Arthur Wood, a young man working in the Eagle Lumber Company's mill, near Susanville, lost his right hand when his glove became entangled in the machinery and drew his hand in, mangling it so badly amputation was necessary.

Chico. — Mrs. M. Jones found a Mexican going through her apartments, and when he kept on going and went out through a window she took a shot at him. The shot went wild and the Mexican is at large.

Porterville. — Since federal gov. San Jose. — The Supervisors voted to increase the salaries of the school teachers of Santa Clara county $111,000. The increase in the salaries of the teachers of San Jose will amount to approximately $56,000. Each teacher will receive an average raise of $300 a year.

ernment funds will not be available the San Joaquin Light and Power Company has decided to join with Tulare county in building the roads from The Forks, on the Tule river, east of here, to Camp Nelson. The company has a reservoir there and will construct the road on condition that that county appropriate $8000 to the fund as the county's share of the cost.

Fresno. — The sale of 2.75 per cent beer will be permitted in Fresno under an ordinance passed by the city board of trustees. Under the usual procedure the ordinance as passed goes over to the next meeting for final adoption, and the actual licensing of beer becomes effective September 17. The ordinance reduces the former liquor license fees from $250 to $200 for retail and from $100 to $75 for wholesale, per quarter.

Fresno. — All records for early shipments of raisins by the California Associated Raisin Company were broken September 2 when the first car of the season, containing 2200 cases of Thompson seedless, was routed over the Santa Fe to the Reed-Murdock Company at Chicago.

Gazelle. — Miss Eva Miller of Redding and Miss Monita Zinn of Chico have been elected to the school faculty here. The term opens here next Monday.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

You reckless men and women who are pecked with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callus the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts off with the fingers.

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callus without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but will positively rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or hardened callus. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you.—Adv.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK. UGH!

"Dodson's Liver Tone" better than calomel and can not salivate.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

Glad to Try Anything
"Three years ago my system was in a terribly run down condition and I was broken out all over my body. I began to be worried about my condition and I was glad to try anything which would relieve me. Peru-na was recommended to me as a fine blood remedy and tonic, and I soon found that it was worthy of praise. A few bottles changed my condition materially and in a short time I was all over my trouble. I owe my restoration to health and strength to Peru-na. I am glad to endorse it!"

THE A B C OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

1. What is the League of Nations?
A. A union of the strongest civilized nations formed at the conclusion of the great war.

2. What is its object?
A. First, to promote the Peace of the World by agreeing not to resort to war. Second, to deal openly with each other, not by secret treaties. Third, to improve international law. Fourth, to co-operate in all matters of common concern.

3. Does it presume to end war?
A. No more than any government can end crime. It claims to reduce the liability of war.

4. What will be done to any nation that makes war?
A. It will be boycotted and otherwise penalized.

5. How else will the probability of war be lessened?
A. By voluntary, mutual and proportionate disarmament; by exchanging military information, by providing for arbitration, by protecting each nation's territorial integrity and by educating public opinion to see the folly of war.

6. What else does the League propose to do for Mankind?
A. (1) Secure fair treatment for labor, (2) suppress the White Slave Traffic, the sale of dangerous Drugs, and the traffic in War Munitions, (3) control and prevent Disease, (4) promote the work of the Red Cross, and (5) establish International Bureaus for other Causes that concern the human race.

7. Who are to be Charter Members of the League?
A. The United States of America, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, British Empire, Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Ecuador, France, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Serbia, Siam, Uruguay and the following states which are invited to accede to the covenant: Argentine Republic, Chili, Colombia, Denmark, Netherlands, Norway, Paraguay, Persia, Salvador, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.

8. What other nations may join?
A. Any self-governing State which will agree to the rules of the League, provided the League accepts it.

9. What Agencies will the League have?
A. (1) An Assembly, composed of representatives of all the member Nations, (2) a Council of Nine, (3) a Secretary-General, (4) a Mandatory Commission, to look after colonies, etc., (5) a Permanent Commission, for military questions, (6) various International Bureaus; such as the Postal Union, etc., (7) Mandatories.

10. What is a Mandatory?
A. Some one nation designated by the League to attend to the welfare of "backward peoples residing in colonies of the Central Empires, or in territories taken from them." This is to be a "sacred trust," and in selecting a mandatory the wishes of the people of the area in question shall be the principal consideration.

11. Does the League mean a Super-nation?
A. No. It interferes in no way with any Nation's Sovereignty, except to limit its power to attack other nations.

12. Can any Nation withdraw when it wishes?
A. Yes. The League is Advisory and Co-operative, not coercive.

13. Does the League put Peace above Justice and National Honor?
A. No. It puts Reason before Violence.

14. Does not the League take away the Constitutional right of Congress to declare war?
A. No. The League can advise war; Congress alone can Declare war.

15. Does it destroy the Monroe Doctrine?
A. Exactly the contrary. For the first time in history the other nations recognize the Monroe Doctrine; and extend it to all the world.

16. Does it not interfere with Treaty Making Powers of the United States?
A. No. It is a Treaty. We can make any Treaty we please.

17. Would we have had the Great War if we had had this League?
A. No. That War cost the world over 7,000,000 lives and 200,000,000,000 dollars.

18. Of what importance is the League?
A. It is the greatest deed of mankind in the history of the world.

19. Has not anyone a right to object to the League?
A. Yes. This is a free country. Any one has a right to any opinion he chooses.

20. Why is the League so bitterly opposed by a few?
A. Because, unfortunately, any Treaty of League must be made by the President, and a President is chosen by a political party and many members of the opposite Party think they must destroy whatever he does.

WE ARE PUBLISHING an article on the League of Nations as a part of an educational campaign favoring such a league. The peace enforcement organization is a most plausible ideal but the covenant as President Wilson would force it on the American people is far from our American ideals. The United States is able to stand on her feet but should not be called upon to help some of the tottering governments to hold the whip hand regardless of justice. Already we discover that three great powers of the proposed league have, contrary to the letter and spirit of the covenant, made and want US to stand for a secret treaty which is directly opposed to a principle on which we entered the war, "no territorial aggressions." That the Senate will adopt the treaty, with reservations is most probable. The reservations are simply statements of our rights as a free and independent nation. They are:

1 Unconditional right to withdraw from the league.

2 Declination by the United States to accept any of the legal or moral obligations of the much discussed article 10, or to accept any mandatory from the league "except by action of the Congress of the United States."

3 Reserving to the United States the exclusive right to decide what questions are within its own domestic jurisdiction.

4 Absolute reservation of the Monroe Doctrine to the judgment of the United States alone.

WHY SHOULD DOGS be allowed in the Big Basin park? If you go in with a gun, it is taken away from you by the warden, which is right. If you go in with a dog, it should also be taken away and shut up during your stay. The wild animals have become quite tame about the camps but an occasional dog that breaks its leash will undo what months of patience has accomplished; to say nothing of the discomfort of campers from the howling and barking of canines. Hundreds of dogs are taken there in autos every season and it is certainly no pleasure for a dog to be chained in such a wild range. Why not forbid dogs the privilege of the park thereby insuring against any hunting whatever?

WHEN A MAN hires out to work these days for such good wages, he should do his work and earn his money. When such a man gets his meal with the promise of working, and then leaves the house with a last farewell, that man deserves a day when he must beg for a job to earn a meal. He spoils the chance for an honest worker.

It will cost almost $1,500,000 to pick California's big prune crop and an equal amount to dry it. This county will get a good share of this amount.

Of the 8,351,000 bushels of pears in all the important producing states, California furnishes over half. Her crop is 112 per cent of last year—30 per cent shipped fresh, 40 canned and 10 dried. In most fruits California balances the rest of the United States.

California's almond crop, which represents 98 per cent of the entire American yield, will be the greatest in the State's history. It is estimated that the 1919 crop will total 7,000 tons, or twice the volume of the crop for 1915. The value of this year's crop is placed at $3,000,000.

Help in Fighting Mosquitoes.

In fighting the mosquito pest it is well to remember that sallow stagnant pools may often be eliminated through planting of eucalypts, either in or about such pools. These are very thirsty trees and will drink up and keep dry very considerable areas after the trees have attained some size. Swamps in Italy and France have been reclaimed through use of eucalypts.

The Jaywalker.

What of the jaywalker? He crosses the street diagonally. The motorman leans and shouts. The cop flourishes his club. His whistle shrills. The autos foot. Unknown to the jaywalker the crossing calls to him. In the hospital nurses prepare bandages; and at home a dog howls for his master.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Get Revenue From Pests.

Rabbit skins from Australia and New Zealand were among the largest offerings in the recent international fur auction at St. Louis. Half a million pounds of Australian rabbit and 50,000 pounds of New Zealand were sold for a total of $335,000. The largest lots went to hatters and felt manufacturers.

Breeding Makes No Difference.

It has been claimed by lovers of domestic cats that highly bred members of the species do not engage in hunting insectivorous and song birds. A few days ago a city gardener captured a handsome cat in the act of killing a young robin which had just left its nest near his house. He did not kill the bird hunter, under the authority recently granted by the Conservation Commission, but took the animal and its victim to the home of the cat's owner. There he learned that the cat was a highly prized ribbon-taker; and the owner was indignant at its capture.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.
